

Jean Selden Greene
Bank of America

Jean Selden Greene has nearly 25 years of investment banking experience. She is currently a Managing Director at BofA Securities in its mergers and acquisitions group, having joined the firm in December 2019 after 20 years at Lazard. She advises clients across a variety of sectors including industrials and consumer. Prior to joining Lazard, Jean worked at Smith Barney, focusing on financing and advisory assignments for oil and gas companies.

Jean also serves on the Board of Trustees of Goodspeed Musicals, a non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation and advancement of musical theater and the creation of new works, located in East Haddam, Connecticut.

Ms. Greene received her undergraduate degree (with a double major in Economics and French) from Wellesley College and an MBA (with concentrations in Finance and Accounting) from the University Of Chicago Booth School Of Business.

She lives in New York City with her three children.